Short biography:	I am passionate about continuous school improvement. My career has been built around driving forward high quality teaching and learning. I have worked in a variety of schools including those in areas of high social deprivation. I love teaching and have taught from Reception to Year Six. In my time at St John's, I have developed our data and assessment systems. I have lead whole school inset and worked alongside staff to move teaching in school from good to outstanding. I champion Pupil Premium in school and enjoy supporting families and children to remove barriers to learning. A key responsibility within our teaching school has been my involvement in the training and induction of NQTs within the local authority.
